

URGENT NOTICE

We have several members of our Clinical staff who are absent from work due to the Covid-19 virus – this means we have reduced capacity in Clinicians able to deal with patients either face to face, telephone etc.

We will not be booking any routine appointments for, at least, the next week (week commencing Tuesday, 4th January 2022). If you already have an appointment booked, please still attend.

Urgent requests will continue to be dealt with.

Please ensure if you are attending the Practice you continue to wear a mask, sanitise your hands, keep your distance from other patients / staff and if seeing a Clinician, please do not bring other family members with you (unless absolutely essential).

We thank you for your understanding during this difficult time – please be patient with our team, they are doing their very best.

Thank you
